Preparing Educators for CA's Diverse Classrooms

California schools are among the most diverse in the U.S., with students from a wide range of cultural, linguistic, and socioeconomic backgrounds.

Moreland's global cohort model means your teachers will learn with and from educators from around the world — effectively preparing them to lead in California's richly diverse classrooms.

Meeting the Demand for Teachers

California employs more than 319,000 teachers, and the demand for high-quality educators remains high.

Moreland University's TEACH-NOW Teacher Preparation Certificate Program offers a fast and flexible path to certification, allowing aspiring educators to complete their training in as little as 9 months.

Empowering California Teachers for Long-Term Success

Underprepared teachers, especially those on emergency credentials or assigned out of field, are nearly twice as likely to leave their jobs compared to their fully prepared counterparts, according to a study by the Learning Policy Institute.

A partnership with Moreland University ensures your teachers are equipped with the tools they need to thrive in the classroom.

With a lot of universities, it's not the kind of relationship where they're going to come and actually sit in front of you and have a conversation: 'Where do you need me? What can I do? How can I make this work?' With Moreland, I never felt like we were a number."
